1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-2, 4-5, 7-10, and 12-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references as applied in paragraph 4 of the previous office action.

4. Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. Claims 8-10, and 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

-Claim 8 depends upon cancelled claim 3.; and

-Claim 13 depends upon cancelled claim 11.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 12-18-2008' have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

-Applicant argues the following points regarding the examiner's rejection of their claimed subject matter.

-Applicant's claimed invention cannot be properly rejected over the prior art of record since the prior art references used by the examiner to reject applicant's claims under 103 fail to individually disclose each, and every aspect of applicant's claimed invention.

-The examiner must disagree.

-The examiner has not rejected applicant's claimed invention under 102.

Therefore the prior art which was commutatively used to reject applicant's claimed subject matter does not have to individually disclose each aspect of applicant's claimed invention in each prior art reference which was used to reject applicant's claims. Further, applicant is attaching the validity of the examiner's 103 rejection of their claims on the basis of the features which each prior art reference fails to specifically teach when those references were not specifically used by the examiner to teach those specific features of applicant's claimed invention since other references used in the examiner's 103 rejection of applicant's claim do teach those same features. Further in section 0016 of Takeuchi et. al., they specifically mention the need to remove the damaged region of a glass substrate which has been plasma etched to flatten it using some type of polishing process. Thus, there is a suggestion to remove the damaged region of the plasma etched surface of the glass substrate using some type of etching process (i.e.-polishing) contrary to what applicant purports.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
